"Telugu Times" is the first Global Telugu Newspaper started in July 2002 by a team of experienced Professionals in the Media, Business in India and abroad. Telugu Times is truly global as its pages are prepared in Hyderabad office, transmitted directly to the Press in USA, printed in San Francisco and distributed throughout USA, North America has over 4 million Indian Communities and all major language groups have their own newspapers in their own language like Malayalam have Malayali publications, Gujaratis have Gujarati publications, Punjabis have Punjabi publications, where as Telugu community in USA, being the second largest and fastest growing Indian ethnic community residing in USA, did not have any news publication in Telugu. Thus, Telugu Times was started to meet the media requirements of around 10,00,000 Non Resident Telugu community in North America.
